Progress of the Construction Campaign for the Jesús T. Piñero Library

By: María Isabel De Guzmán Vendrell

Assistant Vice-chancellor for Institutional Development, UNE

Our Assistant Vice Chanceries for Institutional Development and External Resources, together with the Piñero Collection and Fundraising Committee, and under the leadership of UNE Chancellor Alberto Maldonado have energized our capital campaign reaching 87% of our goal of $3,000,000. As a part of this process, in June of 2012 a symbolic ground-breaking ceremony for the Piñero Library was held at the future construction site. Construction is scheduled to begin in early 2013.

In November of 2012, the Universidad del Este received a significant contribution from the Government Development Bank through Law 290 ("The Special Fund for Depositories of Archives of Ex Governors and Ex First Ladies of Puerto Rico") for the amount of $291,262.33.

An important characteristic of the personal donations that are received for this Project is that each contribution will be doubled in matching funds by the Government Development Bank, as stated in Act 290 which establishes this special fund for libraries of ex Governors.

We invite potential donors to join this campaign adopting áreas within the future Piñero library. Participating corporations will have their names displayed in the áreas they sponsor and their participation will be made known to the general public through diverse media.

Preserving memories . . .

The Institute of Puerto Rican Culture (ICP) and the Municipality of Canóvanas are collaborating with the Piñero Collection in an oral history project that will begin in February. This project will gather the testimonies and memories of residents of the area which will be preserved and later used in the creation of a film documentary about daily life in the zone during the life of Governor Piñero. The project will gather personal testimonies, photographs and films that document the era. Anyone interested in collaborating with this project may call the Piñero House Museum or the Canóvanas Office of Tourism (787-957-1120).
